

The book was found

The Twelfth Planet: Book 1 Of The Earth Chronicles

Synopsis

Over the years, startling evidence has been unearthed, challenging established notions of the origins of Earth and life on it, and suggesting the existence of a superior race of beings who once inhabited our world. The product of thirty years of intensive research, The 12th Planet is the first book in Zecharia Sitchin's prophetic Earth Chronicles series--a revolutionary body of work that offers indisputable documentary proof of humanity's extraterrestrial forefathers. Travelers from the stars, they arrived eons ago, and planted the genetic seed that would ultimately blossom into a remarkable species...called Man. The 12th PlanetÂ brings to life the Sumerian civilization,Â presenting millennia-old evidence of the existence of Nibiru, the home planet of the Anunnaki, and of the landings of the Anunnaki on Earth every 3,600 years, and reveals a complete historyÂ of the solar system as told by these early visitors from another planet.Â Zecharia Sitchin's Earth Chronicles series, with millions of copies sold worldwide, deal with the history and prehistory of Earth and humankind. Each book in the series is based upon information written on clay tablets by the ancient civilizations of the Near East. The series is offered here, for the first time,Â in highly readable, hardbound collector's editions with enhanced maps and diagrams. --This text refers to the Hardcover edition.

Book Information

Audible Audio Edition

Listening Length: 2 hoursÂ andÂ 26 minutes

Program Type: Audiobook

Version: Abridged

Publisher: Phoenix Books

Audible.com Release Date: December 15, 1999

Language: English

ASIN: B0000544Q4

Best Sellers Rank: #22 inÂ Books > Literature & Fiction > Mythology & Folk Tales > Fairy Tales
#26 inÂ Books > Religion & Spirituality > Occult & Paranormal > Unexplained Mysteries #29
inÂ Books > Religion & Spirituality > Occult & Paranormal > Ancient & Controversial Knowledge

Customer Reviews

Sitchin, if you didn't know it already, is one of the leading figures in alternative archaeology and science in general. These days, and especially the last 30-40 years, a "new wave" of scientists and non scientists alike has risen with the intention of re-examining what we as a species consider

"knowledge", knowledge about what we are, and where we come from. Sitchin, being one of the few people in the world who can actually read Sumerian, has spent his life examining our origins, and his conclusions have little to do with apes descending trees and miraculously evolving into humans. In the "12th planet", his most famous of his altogether 9 books, he suggests that we are actually the creation of an alien race which landed on earth more than 450 millenia ago, and who created us as slave labor for their purposes on this planet back then. From then on, and through a myriad interdevelopments and influences, we developed to what we are today. Sure, this sounds controversial, and to most people content with swallowing mainstream teachings for "facts" this might seem as pure science fiction. You would have to read this book before you term it as such though. It is an exhausting book too, as the author needs to use literally 100s of quotes on original translations he's made in order to make his argument and this isn't just any argument, you understand... Exhausting as this book might then be at times, the reward is immense, to put it very mildly. Even if Sitchin happens to be wrong on half of his conclusions what he suggests is mind blowing and shatters to bits most of our current beliefs. More importantly, Sitchin can serve you as a gateway to new paths of thinking. It is impossible -i would think- to read the "12th planet" and emerge the same person afterwards, providing of course that you read it with an open mind. All new knowledge requires an open mind to begin with. This does not mean that you will necessarily agree with Sitchin if you do read it with an open mind, but the evidence he offers is important and solid enough to make you think in a way you've never thought before. You ever wondered why we are the only species on this planet that definately does not fit in with its environment? Or why we have so many grey areas and disagreements about where we originate from and how? Or why the word "anthropos" (a greek word) means "the creature that always looks up"? Or even why the root word of the word "earth" comes from the ancient Sumerian (the word e.ri.du) and means "a home far away"? The "12th planet" will provide you with some spectacular answers.

This is the first book of "The Earth chronicles" series in which Zecharia Sitchin tears the man's origins apart and puts them in a whole new perspective. Author is one of the top scholars in field of the ancient languages and offers his vision of extraterrestrial origins of Homo sapiens on Earth. His main point is that all ancient documents are written on the base of observations and facts and should not be taken symbolically. As we presume today, civilization has originated in Mesopotamia, but no one can really explain the fact that right from its start it was highly developed, that it blossomed virtually out of nothing and created incredible works, which we are not capable of performing even to date. Sitchin quotes many ancient documents, mostly Bible and Epic of Gilgamesh (which he read in Akkadian and Babylonian) and offers more sensful translation of these scripts. He also explains discrepancies of single/plural God in the Genesis and shows how the extraterrestrial wisdom has spread over other countries (Egypt, Greece, India...). Gods came from planet Nibiru (or Marduk in Babylonian), which has been created for special task: to bring order in our, at the time overcrowded solar system. After crushing Tiamat and forming Earth and Moon, planet Nibiru went on his comet-like journey, returning to the Sun in every 3,600 years. Life has formed and developed on it and some 450,000 years ago they noticed that our planet has some resources they desired. So they established settlements on Earth in range of Mesopotamia, because it is very rich with fuels, needed for space travelling. Man was created with genetic manipulation after their image (they mixed hominid's genes with their own in order to obtain higher IQ level) to do the mining work for them. In sitchin's light some very confusing and presumably highly imaginative texts suddenly seem very realistic. He explains why such monumental works like ziggurats, pyramids and other vast temples have been made and for what purposes they were used. The most monumental event in Earth's "modern" history was the Deluge, the Great Flood, found written and known everywhere around the world. Sitchin explains how Gods knew that it's going to happen and why Noah (or Ziusudra or Utnapishtim) was chosen to survive. After the waters flew away (the Deluge was coincided with the end of the Ice Age and the gravital pull of the passing Nibiru, therefore it lasted for a year), Gods gave many different technologies to people and they spread all over the Earth again. The book is very well written - if you don't accept the theory inside, it's still interesting piece of science fiction for you. I think Sitchin knows what he writes and the evidence written inside is sure enough for me. I already look forward what volume 2 will bring. And - if you disagree, maybe you know better?

Download to continue reading...

The Twelfth Planet: Book 1 of the Earth Chronicles The Complete Earth Chronicles (The Earth Chronicles) Lonely Planet the Gambia & Senegal (Lonely Planet the Gambia and Senegal, 1st ed) (Lonely Planet the Big Trip: Your Ultimate Guide to Gap Years & Overseas Adventures) Lonely Planet Atlas de Un Mundo Fascinante 1 ES (Kids Amazing World Atlas) (Lonely Planet Junior / Lonely Planet Kids) (Spanish Edition) Earth's Evolving Systems: The History Of Planet Earth Planet of the Apes Vol. 3: Children of Fire (Planet of the Apes (Boom Studios)) Not For Parents Extreme Planet (Lonely Planet Not for Parents) Lonely Planet French Phrasebook & Dictionary (Lonely Planet Phrasebook and Dictionary) Lonely Planet Korean Phrasebook & Dictionary (Lonely Planet Phrasebook and Dictionary) Concordex of the Urantia Book: The Urantia Book is the Fifth Epochal to our planet, Urantia. It accurately answers the most asked questions on earth. American Comic

Book Chronicles: 1965-69 (American Comic Book Chronicles Hc) Planet Earth Quiz Book for Kids (The World's Greatest Series) The Barefoot Book of Earth Tales (One World, One Planet) (Barefoot Books) Twelfth Night : For Kids (Shakespeare Can Be Fun series) Twelfth Night (Picture This! Shakespeare) The Travels of Benjamin of Tudela: Through Three Continents in the Twelfth Century The Supreme Court; Twelfth Edition The Palaeography of Gothic Manuscript Books: From the Twelfth to the Early Sixteenth Century Saturday, The Twelfth Of October Twelfth Night (2010 edition): Oxford School Shakespeare (Oxford School Shakespeare Series)

Dmca